BITS, SCRAPS AND PIECES

All the patrons here to-night who were fortunate enough to be present last week will agree with me that the meeting was one continuous un-adulterated thrill; too much so when Mr. Kempthorne-Ley's sports car overturned just when he made a magnificent effort to snatch 2nd place honours from the car in front—his car went over and over, and everyone just waited in tense emotion, and when Mr. Kempthorne-Ley sprang to his feet there was a huge sigh of relief

To-night we can add the spice of professional thrills to the meeting by watching Bogey Dare attempt the seemingly impossible tasks as billed. Last year it was my pleasure to promote several rodeo shows in which Bogey was a very conspicuous performer. The show travelled the British Isles with great success. How very different it is watching human beings toying with death as from performing animals. PRECISE, ICE-COLD, SPLIT-SECOND REASONING MUST PREVAIL during the performance, failing which its "curtains and a wooden overcoat."

Here, then, ladies and gentlemen, is our show, for which you must pass judgment as to whether it was worth the few shillings you paid or not, we are content to rest upon your decision.

Have a good holiday, and cheerio!
